House Ways and Means Committee Called to Write
Bill

HEARINGS SEVEN DAYS

Collier Beer Bill is Reviewed

By William S. Neal
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(INS)—A battle behind closed doors between backers of 2.75 and 3.2 percent beer was opened today as the House Ways and Means Committee was called into session to write a beer and wines bill.
Having ended seven days of hearings, the committee reviewed the Collier bill—the basis for the hearings—section by section.

The committee at the outset was confronted with the question of the percentage of alcohol to be allowed in a beer, which would be held non-intoxicating if brought to a court test.
Although Rep. Collier (D) of Mississippi, chairman, made 2.75 percent the basis of his bill, brewers and most of the anti-prohibitionists declare that the beverage must have 3.2 percent alcohol in it to produce revenue. The 3.2 percent by weight equals 4 percent by volume.

"It is my belief that a beer bill will be reported by the committee so that it can be taken up in the House next Tuesday," said Chairman Collier. Majority leader Rainey (D) of Illinois

SHOOTING A MYSTERY

New York City, Dec. 15.—Mystery
today surrounded the shooting of Dr.
Walter A. Walsh, 41, for ten years club physician for the New York Giants, by a patient in his office on Riverside Drive last evening. Dr.
Walsh was shot three times and is in a critical condition at the Lutheran Hospital today. His assailant, identified as John Wilson, was slain in a pistol battle with police a few minutes after his revolver had pumped three bullets into the physician.

ARRESTED AS FUGITIVE

Newark, N. J., Dec. 15.—Robert Elliott Burns, 41, who escaped from a Georgia chain gang, became a magazine editor and then wrote a book describing his experiences as a convict and a fugitive, was arrested here today as a fugitive from justice. Burns, police said, came to New Jersey some time ago and had been conducting an art shop in East Orange. He was locked up after a conference with Police Chief J. A. McCall. He will be given a hearing later today.

FIGHT FOR CONVICT'S RETURN

Allentown, Pa., Dec. 15.—Everything within the power of the State of Georgia, will be done to secure the return to this city of Robert Elliott Burns, escaped chain gang convict and former Chicago editor, Judge Vivian L.
Stanley of the State Prison Commission said today.

Judge Stanley revealed today that two weeks ago he had sent photographs of finger prints of Burns to the New York police.

WAR DEBTS DUE TODAY

New York, Dec. 15.—One eighth of a billion dollars in war debts fell due to the United States government today with indications that all but $25,856,- 141 would be credited to the treasury's account before the day's close of business. The treasury will be richer by little less than $100,000,000. This sum represents principal and interest from the nations which have decided to pay the semi-annual installment on the date it is due.

FRANCE ELIMINATES HERSELF

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—Stirred as it has not been before since war days, Washington today began consideration of retaliatory steps to France for her default of payment of the $19,000,000 due the U. S. Treasury today. In and out of Congress indignation ran high and the view was generally taken that by her unprecedented act, France eliminates herself from participation in the benefits of any future readjustment of the whole debt structure. The opinion was universal that there can be no further negotiations with France until she meets this payment. "You cannot deal with a defaulter," said one official.

BOY SCOUT TROOPS
IN FIRST-AID CONTEST

Initial One of Series Held at Sellersville-Perkasie
School

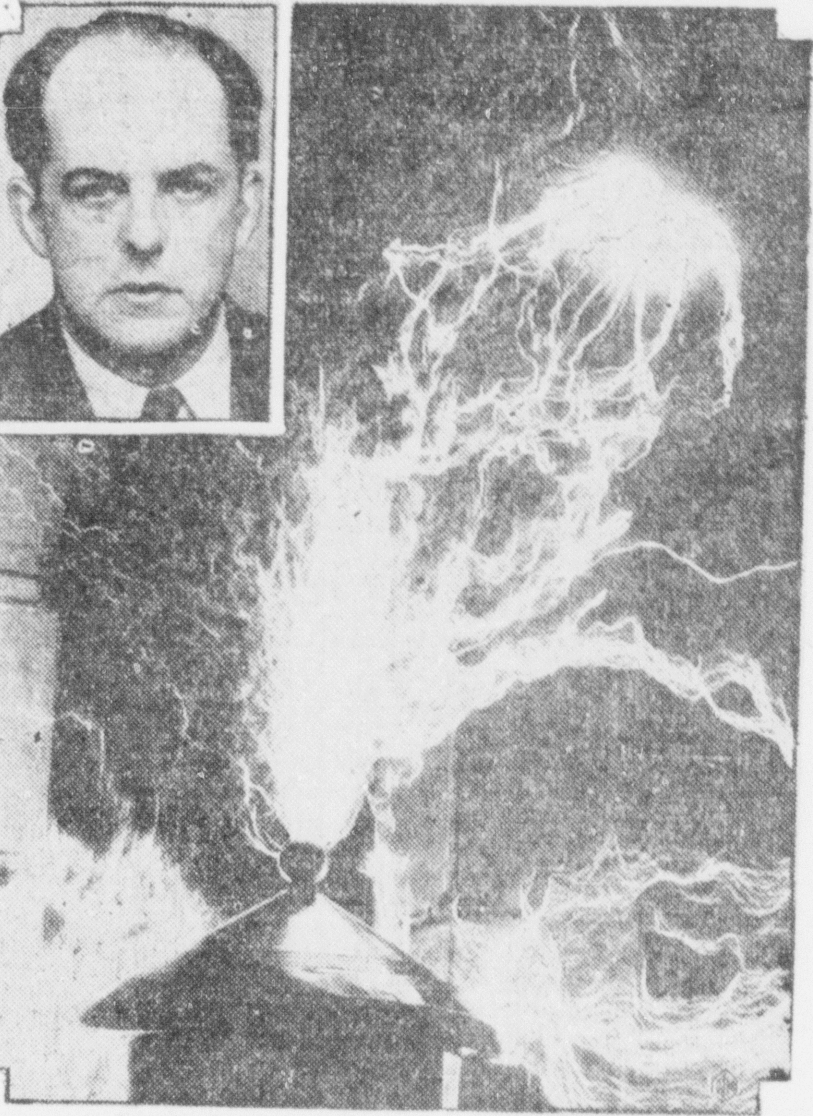

CO. MEET ON SATURDAY

The first elimination contest of the First Aid meets which are being held among the Bucks County Boy Scout troops occurred Monday evening at Sellersville-Perkasie high school. The troops of the upper section of Bucks County were in the contest and competed in what is known as the Northern Division. Riegelsville, No. 1, won first place with a total of 1405 points; second place, Milford No. 1 with a total of 1397 points; third place, Quakertown No. 2 with a total of 1276 points.

The first, second, and third place winners will compete in the county meet December 17th, at Quakertown high school, 2:30 p. m. Quakertown
No. 1 and Sellersville No. 1 placed within the first five high point scorers.

The first aid problem which the troops had to solve was that "an automobile containing four persons going down Sellersville hill skidded off the road into an electric light pole. The car was badly damaged. A patrol leader and three Scouts going to their troop meeting or on a hike saw the accident and rushed to the rescue.
There were four patients. The first patient had his right ankle turned and he was very weak and dizzy. The second patient was lying unconscious on an electric wire. The third patient had had his left leg badly cut half way between the ankle and the knee. Blood was spurting, and he was very weak and pale. The fourth patient had his left arm broken between the shoulder and elbow. He was also unconscious."
The first aid contests are part of the Boy Scout Council training program for Scouts and leaders.

Cancer Treated by Thunderbolt

Above is the apparatus used in the most sensational experiment in the history of science, which was conducted recently in Berlin. The machine generates the synthetic thunderbolt with which scientists sent an electrical charge of 2,500,000 volts through the cancerous arms of a 55-year-old farmhand in an attempt to cure the disease. The fact that the subject of the "kill or cure" experiment still lives gives scientists hope for their success. Inset is Dr. Fritz Lange, who developed the apparatus, used for splitting atoms, which made the experiment possible.

SHOPPING IN SECTION
GOES ALONG SMOOTHLY

People Seem to Heed Request
To Do Shopping
Early

SELECTIONS ARE FINE TO DISTRIBUTE GIFTS

By Gift Seeker
CHRISTMAS shopping
seems to be going along smoothly for most people this year. Probably it is because through constant urging on the part of merchants, postal authorities, and other, the majority are starting their quests earlier.

Whether the gift be for man, woman or child; wearing apparel, household goods, toys, personal effects, or novelties; it is safe to say the order can be filled right in Bristol. Nearly every kind of store is here located, and the merchants will be more than glad to secure anything you desire if at all possible.

During a trip to Tranotti's at 425 Jefferson avenue, today, I espied in the window a "ducky" knitted suit in yellow for a tot of three years. The leggings, sweater and beret of light yellow have narrow bands of a darker yellow for trim. The warm sweater, with its turn-down collar, is fastened in the front by two small yellow bot-tons. An excellent gift for the little tot.

Then turning thoughts to jewelry,
J. W. Clark with his excellent gift suggestions, comes to mind. A wristwatch is always acceptable to the man, and Mr. Clark is displaying a Gruen, square model with rounded sides. It is plain, yet attractive. And this well-known make of watch is certain to give satisfaction and years of service. The numerals and dials in gold look well upon the face of grey.
And the strap—this is of plain black leather. Mr. Clark also has a fine selection of ring and pendant sets, the gold pieces being enhanced with birthstones.

At Fabian's Drug Store, Radcliffe
and Mulberry streets, the one puzzled over a number of gifts, will surely find many answers to those problems.
Mr. Fabian is showing two most useful gifts for the little tots. One is a box of stationery on which sport elephants,
"hippos," pigs, and a variety of other wild and domestic "animals." In the display windows are also shown toothbrush holders, in the form of the lovable "Skippy."

A fine gift for the young miss is to be found at J. Steinberg's, 213 Mill street. This is in the form of a rayon dressing gown. And 'tis quite Oriental —fashioned of black rayon with dragons of gold crawling over it. The sleeves are full, and as for the wearing quality—Mr. Steinberg will back it to the limit. This indeed would make a gift to be proud of. Then there is a pair of pajamas shown of the same kind of material only in a brilliant shade of red. These too, are decked with the golden dragons.

NAMED AGENT

Benjamin Silber, for many years active as an insurance agent, has been appointed exclusive agent for Bristol and vicinity of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company. The branch office will be located at Cedar street and Jefferson avenue, and Mr. Silber states he will devote his entire time to collecting and attending to the company's affairs in this territory.

dred Children at Country Club

LANGHORNE, Dec. 15.—Several hundred dollars are to be expended by Langhorne Lions Club in their giantic project of making Christmas a merry one for 150 children of this section.

There is to be a big party at the Bucks County Country Club on the afternoon of Saturday, December 24th, and Santa Claus has promised to attend. Early in the afternoon will the Lions and members of the American Legion, which latter organization is also co-operating, make their rounds, gathering into automobiles 150 unfortunate children in Langhorne, Langhorne Manor, South Langhorne, Hulmeville, and Middletown Township, who have been invited.

The boys and girls will all be gathered in the casino at the country club at two, when festivities are scheduled to start. To each little guest will a stocking filled with candy and fruit be given, and each will be presented with a fine toy. The committee in charge hopes to have music by a children's orchestra, and a Christmas tree will be much in evidence.

Some of the parents will accompany the children, and in cases where families are in need, baskets of food will later be sent to the homes. It is planned, to send out between 40 and 50 baskets of food-stuffs.

The Lions committee in charge of the most worthy and cheer-giving project is comprised of: Frank Whit-tam, chairman; Thomas E. Coe, president of the Lions Club; Bertie Sylves-

1933 Auto Tags May Be Used On Cars Today

HARRISBURG, Dec. 15.—Motor vehicle registration plates for 1933 may be used on and after Thursday, December 15th. Owners are requested by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles to begin using 1933 tags on that date.
County and municipal authorities are asked to attach the new plates on official cars.

The Vehicle Code requires that plates be securely fastened to the car or truck for which they were issued. They must be affixed not less than 12 inches from the ground, measuring from the bottom of the plate.
Plates must be plainly legible from a distance of 100 feet during daylight.
At night, the rear plate must be illuminated by a white light so as to be read from a distance of 50 feet to the rear of the vehicle.

Defaced, illegible, fictitious or improperly placed plates are illegal. The aid of police chiefs in arresting users of these plates, is being enlisted by the Department of Revenue. Use of 1932 plates after midnight, December 31, is a violation of the law.

LOOKS FOR MEETING PLACE

Barred From Hall When They
Interrupt Checker
Game

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

SOUTH LANGHORNE, Dec. 15.—
Borough council is without a meeting place because they have been barred from the fire hall after a recent meeting of the town's officials interrupted a checker game of the fire-eaters.
Council has petitioned the school board for the use of its building.

It all came about, members explained, this way:

Last week the second floor of the fire hall used as a recreation room by several local groups as well as firemen, was ordered closed to save heating expense. Two small rooms on the first floor were then made available.

COUNTY FIRE LOSS
TOTALS $86,000.00
IN THREE MONTHS

Insurance On Destroyed Property Exceeds Loss by $8,400

SIXTEEN BARNs BURNED

Four Dwellings Destroyed and One Life Lost, is Report

NEWTOWN, Dec. 15.—Bucks County suffered a fire loss of $86,000 within the last three months, according to figures made public by County Fire Marshal, William L. Stackhouse. The insurance on this loss of property amounted to $94,400.

"It is the first time in the history of my career that insurance has exceeded the loss. Sixteen barns and four houses were entirely wiped out. No companies were notified or called to three of the buildings. One death which occurred when a car burned up near Ottsville, was the sole loss of human life by fire," said the fire marshal.

To investigate the fires, a half dozen of which occurred in the vicinity of Ottsville, Fire Marshal Stackhouse spent 18 to 20 days.

"Two of the fires represented a single loss of $5,000 or $6,000 apiece and since most of the fires occurred on farms in the rural districts the property endangered was very slight."

Stackhouse reported the arrest and conviction of Michael Farrell, Bristol firebug, who started 11 fires in three nights.

The report of Stackhouse was submitted at a quarterly meeting of the Bucks County Firemen's Association which convened here Saturday night.

With the destruction of 32 barns in Bucks county within the past six months, President Groome stated there won't be a barn left standing if this loss keeps up. He particularly scored the apathy with which insurance brokers and companies raise the insurance on farm buildings without making any attempt to investigate the true value of the structure.

In one case, it was stated by the Fire Marshal, a barn recently destroyed by fire was valued at $800 to $1500, yet when the insurance was paid it represented the sum of $3800. "With the exception of a few barns, the majority are empty and quite often contain the ruins of an abandoned still.
Bucks county's beauty will soon be marred with the ruins of barns dotting
the country side," said President Groome.

SPORTS ENTHUSIASTS
HEAR FAMED MENTORS

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Dec. 15.— A gigantic meeting in the interest of sports and true sportsmanship was attended by 300 men and boys in the auditorium of Bensalem Township high school, here, last evening.

Two speakers of prominence in the sports world were on the program, being introduced by supervising principal, Samuel K. Faust. These were Paul Scull, assistant football coach at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; and Russel ("Rusty") Callow, coach of oarsmen at the U. of P.
Callow at one time played football
under coachmanship of "Gil" Dohie.
He formerly was located at the University of Washington, in Seattle, where he acted as coach of oarsmen.
Both of these men have had excellent success in their respective fields this season, and last evening communicated much enthusiasm to the men and boys gathered.

The two held the attention of their eager listeners, Callow speaking mainly of sports from the characteristic standpoint. He told of the harm of smoking, and the result of carousing as reflected in sports. Then he told how to "play the game," and mentioned the value of sports and training for such.

Coach Scull dwelt upon preparation of athletes for the games, the living up to rules and schedules, and told of the type of fellow who makes good in the sports world. The two men appealed to the fathers to back Bensalem high in its sports program.

Mr. Faust also introduced Coach Reimer who gave pertinent remarks and asked backing of the public for the athletic programs. The faculty manager of athletics, Franklin Splitter, announced the basketball schedule for Bensalem high.

A number of the school directors were in attendance, and these together with the other fathers and the young men were high in their praises of the excellent program. The consensus of opinion that such should be held more frequently.

Many of the men then entered in basketball throwing contest, each having 10 tries for the basket. Winner, William Shibe, Andalusia, father of a Bensalem graduate who is now at Ursinus College, Collegeville, scored eight, while Gerald K. Swallow scored seven. Each received a box of candy for their wives. A basketball game between a group of the men followed.

CHRISTMAS TRADE

The period of Christmas trade is the high tide of retail business for the year, and it makes a big difference to Bristol where the money spent at this season shall go. Shall we back up our own industries, support our own trade, and thereby give our community a good business start for 1933? Or shall we let this money drift hither and thither, and be largely dissipated, as far as the welfare of our community is concerned?

Our merchants have done a very fine job in preparation for the holiday season. They have provided themselves with splendid assortments of every kind of thing that can be needed for holiday gifts or the needs of the winter. Every wish that your friends may have, every need of their households, can be supplied in these stores of ours. They are rich with the best modern products, assembled from all over the world.

It is like visiting some fine exposition to go through our stores at this season, when the stocks reach their maximum figure, and see how completely they are provided for every kind of modern need.

Another marvelous feature of their service is the low prices now offered. The producers of the world have come down to bed rock in production costs, and have placed their merchandise on the market at prices that have not been seen since the World War. It is not going to be expensive to supply your families and friends with nice and appropriate gifts for this Christmas season.

Let us buy our gifts at once, remembering how much overwork we shall save to store and postal employees, if we distribute the Christmas rush as much as possible. Buy early and buy at home, should be the slogans of the Christmas trade.

EVOLUTION OF THE RACE

Listening to the speeches at a congress of eugenicists, one would suppose that the only reason people fall in love and marry is to realize Nietzsche's dream of a race of supermen. How different this cold scientific viewpoint is from reality.

When eugenicists wax sarcastic or indulge in satire they usually contrast human match-making with the methods of breeding prize livestock and fancy dogs and cats. The "love child" has no place in their scheme of life.

Society goes along part way by agreeing that marriage should be denied the unfit. Fifteen states have laws forbidding the marriage of subnormal persons and some states authorize sterilization, but no attempt is made to enforce these restrictions. Improvement of the race through sterilization is impossible because not even science can draw the line between the fit and unfit. And laws closing the marriage altar to those society holds unfit would only increase the number of children born out of wedlock.

This does not mean, however, that man is at the mercy of the weaker strains in his species. The depreciating effect of the scrubs upon the race would be largely offset if there were fewer childless marriages among those who are best qualified for parenthood.

What this country needs is fewer people looking for Santa Claus.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

CURLY-BRIM HATS, TIE PINS, LATEST IN MODE FOR MEN

main feature is a very curly brim.

The men, it appears, like a change as well as the women, and are weary of the ordinary snap brim. They have been asking the hatters for something quite new and different, but for the moment are compelled to wait for this model. The manufacturers are keeping the design a close secret until they can get in sufficient stocks to meet the rush when they are released.

It looks like a very luxurious winter ahead for the male members of the family. Ties are coming out in most magnificent silks and broadcloths. Bolin is showing some pebbly surfaces in most discreet but distinguished shades, small dots and tiny stripes. Bianchini favors a lovely gray ottoman silk made lovelier still by the emerald pin stuck through it.

Cravat pins, by the way, are also to be seen on every chic man, large emeralds, rubies and pearls being the favorites, and mostly pear-shaped.

The pleated sleeve is the latest innovation. They come on the shoulder, thus giving ease to any movement and realizing the new curved line instead of square effects.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson and family, Collegeville; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson and children, Violet and Charles, Bordentown, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Doan, Swain street.

OUR DAILY FOOD

By COLONEL GOODBODY

TALKING TURKEY

MRS. GOODBODY gave Judge Gordon and me a lecture the other day. Yes, I mean a real classroom talk, and as she let drop her pearls of wisdom I could feel the years being lifted from my shoulders, and I almost thought myself back in my college days.

Her talk was an interesting one, indeed for this time of the year. She was describing to me her process for roasting a turkey. If one is to judge an artist's capability by the finished work, my wife is extremely well fitted to tell about turkey roasting, for she turns out birds that are the very quintessence of culinary perfection. Here is her method.

After the bird is wiped dry inside and sprinkled with salt, it is filled with hot, savory bread-crumbs. Then it is trussed—that is, the legs and the wings are tied down, and the openings are sewed up so that the stuffing won't fall out. Last, salt and flour are rubbed all over the outside, and butter over the breast, legs and wings. A piece of fat is placed over the breast bone.

The turkey is then put on a rack in an open roasting pan, and into a hot oven, where it stays for about 20 minutes. By that time it has begun to brown and the first whiffs of roasting turkey are straying out the kitchen door. Then the oven temperature is lowered, and the turkey roasted for about two and a half hours in moderate heat.

Every once in a while the pan drippings are spooned up over the turkey, and when it is done it is a beautiful rich golden brown all over.

Now here is an important point. The above method is for a young bird. If you're selecting a very large bird, say one big enough to serve twelve or fifteen, it's better to cook it in a covered roaster. Otherwise it will get too brown on the outside before it cooks clear through. Allow about fifteen minutes to the pound for roasting a young turkey and about twenty minutes to the pound for a large mature turkey. But don't forget about the rack, to keep the turkey off the bottom of the roasting pan. And don't add water.

After Mrs. Goodbody had finished her symphony of the Roasted Turkey, Judge Gordon asked me to chant the turkey carving song, so up to my feet I rose.

It's just the old-fashioned way of carving. Nothing new about it. I like to have a very sharp, long-bladed carving knife and a large platter. Mrs. Goodbody uses her largest dinner plates, too, and heats them good and hot. Then the turkey is brought in, with its back on the platter, its neck to my left. I begin by inserting the fork at the point of the breast-bone, and hold the bird firmly. It's important to get a firm hold on the bird.

The next step is to cut off the leg, separate the drumstick from the second joint and slice the meat from the leg into several portions. Then remove the wing, and lastly, carve the breast meat into thin slices.

Put a spoonful of stuffing and some light and dark meat on each plate—and that's all there is to it, theoretically. But actually, then is when the fun begins, for no individual preference is as strong as one's own desire for white meat, or dark meat, or the drumstick. And, say I, each man to his own liking. As for me, I'll take the drumstick!

S. Langhorne Council Looks for Meeting Place

until an order from borough council restrained even their use from anyone except firm—and the borough council.

Then, the story goes, as the fire-eaters, now confined to their two rooms were in the midst of a heated checker match, in dropped borough council to hold a meeting, and they gently told the boys to "scram." They did, adjourning to the jail in the rear. There the interrupted checker game resumed itself into an "emergency" meeting at which Harry Bergbauer, volunteer fire member, offered a resolution closing the fire hall even to borough council.

The resolution was adopted and council petitioned the school board for use of its building.

Boy Scout Troops In First-Aid Contest

A considerable number of the Cub Scouts and leaders of the Bucks County Boy Scout Council participated in the Cub Wigwam Saturday afternoon at Salem Reformed Church, Doylestown. Although the weather prevented those who were less hardy from attending it did not dampen the interest or affect the enthusiasm of those who braved the elements. A roaring fire in the stone fireplace added an effective touch to the scene.

The wigwam was conducted to recognize Cub Scouts who had made achievements and learned more of "cub-lore." The Younger Boy Program of Scouting for boys nine to twelve is founded on Indian tradition, and has three groups of achievements: the Wolf, the Bear, and the Lion. Each of these groups sat in true Indian custom with crossed legs, and folded arms.

Goguyhmet represented by Scout Executive William F. Livermore, and Akela by Carl Leidy told the interested Cub Scouts the tales of endeavor of those "braves" who had gone on before. Thomas Ross as President of the Boy Scout Council spoke to the audience as "The Chief," and extended a cordial welcome.

Each Cub was awarded a symbol representing what he had done. The awards were made by Akela Leidy, and made a deep impression on the boys.

The ceremony concluded with the "living circle" and the Cub-Promise led by Assistant Cubmaster Edward Baumeister, South Langhorne.

Battle Behind Closed Doors On Wines Measure

predicted that the bill would be reported Saturday.

The major questions, in addition to the percentage, before the committee, were:
The Tax: The bill calls for $5.00 a barrel, with some members urging a $7.50 tax.

Wines: The committee is expected to have a sharp struggle over the question of legalizing light wines of a possible nine or ten per cent alcoholic content.

Distribution: A conflict has developed between those who would let the States decide the method and those who want strict regulations to prevent return of the saloon.

Containers: Another fight is expected between those demanding the five-cent glass of beer for workmen and those who would restrict sale to bottled beer.

Speaker Garner was prepared to give the beer bill right of way. Reports to Democratic leaders indicated the bill will be passed by Wednesday.

MAKE A habit of reading the Classified ads each day.

It won't be long now until the festive season is upon us. At this time one can offer no more sound advice than to repeat the old slogan: "Do your Christmas shopping early." Here is lovely Marion Nison, screen star, who believes in being well ahead of schedule. Not only has she done her buying, but already she has dispatched most of her presents. She is shown about to dispose of another cargo.

HOLLYWOOD. —Just as the street lights were going on in Hollywood, R-K-O officials yesterday came to a momentous change of mind, and today several of the company's most important stars find themselves with entirely new pictures to do.

It all started when someone discovered a swell new story for Ann Harding—so good in fact that David Selznick gave orders to put it into immediate preparation for the blonde star's next film.

But what to do then with "The Great Desire" (formerly "Christopher Strong"), upon which Ann was about to start? Answer—and this was the second bright idea in a row—to give the part to Katharine Hepburn, who would make an ideal aviatrix.

Great, but that left the impending "Three Came Unarmed" hanging in mid-air without a leading woman. Postpone it, ordered headman Selznick, and thus the Gordian knot was cut.

So Katharine Hepburn starts "The Great Desire" under the direction of Dorothy Arzner. Ann Harding will do the mysterious story under Gregory La Cava and only Joe McCrea (scheduled for "Three Came Unarmed") is temporarily at loose ends.

After the New York premiere of "The Sign of the Cross," a group was discussing the wholesale killings and deaths in the picture.

One writer was particularly impressed. "Look here," he said, "don't you think they really should have called it 'X Marks the Spot'?"

HOLLYWOOD PARADE.

Rather amusing the predicament of a certain blonde actress the other day. Called upon to do a tipsy scene, she tried several times but could not satisfy the director. Finally, in desperation, she snaked off the set and had three stiff jolts of gin. A few moments later she returned with a swell edge on to find they had decided not to retake the scene and were setting up for sob stuff.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., is crazy to do "The White Sister" opposite Helen Hayes. Maybe he will, but it will take plenty of negotiations. . . . Visiting her home in Tennessee was mighty fine, but the biggest thrill Dorothy Jordan got out of her eastern trip was the dressing-room they had fixed up for her at a department store!

day, and covers were laid for: Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thompson and sons Kenneth, William and Mervin, Miss Florence Hutchinson, and Miss Helen W. Leedom.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dilliplane are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a son. Mrs. Dilliplane before her marriage was Miss Ruth Allen.

Mrs. Louis C. Leedom and Miss Helen W. Leedom spent Wednesday with Mrs. Charles Laney, Overbrook.

Mrs. Clarence Carver, Sandy Run, is confined to her home by illness.

A number of persons attended the Red Cross sewing meeting which was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. Linn Bassett. This sewing will be held every Monday at 1.45 during the winter. The Yardley Relief Committee has much clothing from the Capitol Theatre in New York. In that very room—minus all the star trimmings—Dorothy used to dress with the rest of the chorus. It was from here that she went to the Greenwich Village Follies and thence to Hollywood.

Retakes on "Na Gana" have spoiled the Mexico City trip of the Melvyn Douglasses. By the time he is through, Helen Gahagan will have to go north to reopen the "Cat and the Fiddle" in San Francisco on Christmas night. Meanwhile, there is talk of the couple signing to do a picture together at Columbia. . . . John Boles has taken his two small daughters to Palm Springs to recuperate from the flu. Wonder if the students at Los Angeles High School have recognized John as the bicycle rider who passes their class-rooms daily. He does 10 miles a day for exercise. . . . Helen Costello and Hugh Trevor have been out dancing again at the Beverly Hills Hotel. . . . And Janet McLeod was at the Biltmore Gardens with Pat Lester. Was his face red when he missed the chair and sat down on the floor? . . . Julianne Johnston and Ralph Forbes are making the late places together these nights. . . . Just received an interesting looking book—"Glamorous Sinners" by Frederick L. Collins. It's about Sanford White and the gayer Broadway of those days. . . . Willard Keefe is in the hospital after a narrow escape from pneumonia. . . . And El Brendel, back from a hunt, reports he is very well satisfied with the number of ducks he saw.

If the pleas of Charles R. Rogers are successful, Marjorie Rambeau will make a comeback on the screen. The Hollywood producer has an emissary in Sebring, Florida trying to sign the actress for one of the leading roles in "Strictly Personal."

Back when Marjorie married Francis Gudge, she said that she was content to give up acting and darn socks. But that was many months ago. Maybe the call of the grease-paint will be stronger now.

By an odd coincidence, Willard Mack, one of Marjorie's ex-husbands, is doing the screen play of "Strictly Personal." Originally, it came from the typewriters of Wilson Mizner and Robert T. Sherman.

DID YOU KNOW—That James Cagney's first job after leaving school was office boy in a New York newspaper and that later he was a bundle wrapper in a department store!

TRINKETS IN CHINA ARE NOW LATEST IN FANCIES OF FASHION

Novel Bracelets of Porcelain Are Painted By Hand

By Alice Langelier

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS—(INS)—China has come to Paris in the newest crink of the demi-saison. Novel bracelets designed in hand-painted porcelain are included among Fashion's latest fancies. They are extremely broad, in fact they remind one of circles cut from old-fashioned china flower vases and they come in all delicate tints to match any frock or ensemble. The designs vary from geometrical motifs to any kind of posy.

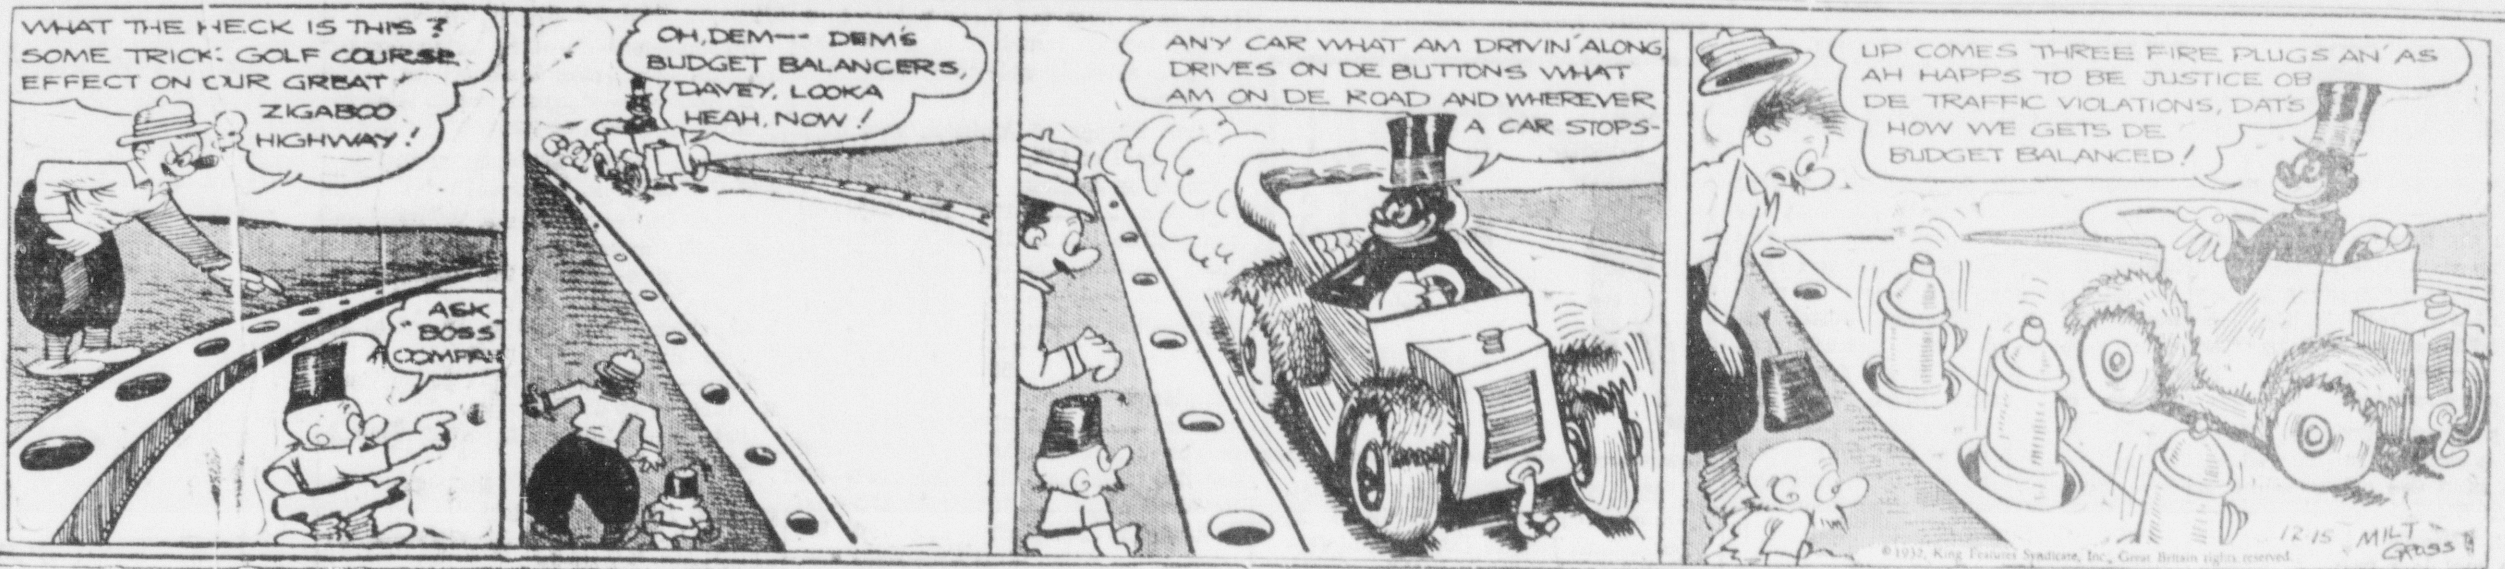

Jewels should be genuine this season, according to Mademoiselle Chanel, well-known dress designer, who has just come out in the new light of jeweler and incidentally has placed another big temptation in the path of the daughters of Eve.

The stones which she is showing in her newly-designed jewelry are exclusively diamonds, selected, she says, because they represent the greatest value in the smallest compass. They symbolize a reaction against imitations which has now ceased to have any real effect.

Buttons with steel rims, steel and copper bangles and buckles are prominent on new frocks and coats. There almost seems to be a mechanical genius in Paris who spends all his time in thinking out these ingenious fastenings. To get out of her jacket this season a woman must unscrew half a dozen complicated looking gadgets or slip two or three metal bars out of ornamental sockets or something of the sort. And when she opens her coat in a restaurant it is to the accompaniment of a dull clashing and rattling

DAVE'S DELICATESSEN

which is really most unusual.

Zebra-striped velvet gloves in pinks match a zebra cap recently seen at the Ritz during the tea hour and looking very smart with a black ensemble.

Big bunches of flowers or single posies are worn at the waist or in front of the bodice on evening gowns and at the waist on afternoon ones.

BEAUTY EXPERT OF PARIS SAYS EYE BROWS ROLE VITAL

By Alice Langelier

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS.—By her eyebrows, one shall know her, says one of the leading beauty specialists in Paris.

Eyebrows play a vital role in a woman's general appearance and should be given particular attention these days. Not only this, but they are most important in indicating a woman's character. The generally acknowledged perfect eyebrow which one associates with a pretty face, does not necessarily denote intelligence, but is very often a sign of the frivolous and vain in their search for beauty.

High curved brows tend to give a youthful expression.

Eyebrows which meet across the nose generally signify temper and in this case a woman is more than justified in tampering with Nature and doing some judicious plucking.

Straight brows puckered lightly to the nose, are the sign of a thoughtful character.

Length and an intellectual expression will result if the brows are trained slightly upwards and then out to the sides.

Very arched brows may make women look younger but they also tend to make them appear silly, and they know it.

Excessive plucking is to be avoided, a mere stressing of the natural line providing the correct touch.

OLD LIQUOR RETURNED

CHEYENNE, Wyo.—Robert S. Gillette owns 72 gallons of whiskey "given" to him by the United States government. Federal agents recently searched Gillette's home and seized the liquor. Gillette took the case into Federal court. Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy ruled prohibition officers searched without a proper search warrant and ordered the whiskey returned.

AVIATOR AIDS WOMAN

ROCKLAND, Me.—While dropping a wreath over the grave of a friend while flying over a cemetery in a plane, Stanley Boynton, former junior speed flyer, was signaled to land. His plane was used as an ambulance to bring a dying woman from Vinal Haven to the hospital here where her life was saved.

HOLLYWOOD, . . . It will be "The Lives of a Bengal Lancer" in which Sir Guy Standing finally makes a Hollywood debut that was to have taken place 18 years ago.

Motion pictures were silent when the distinguished English actor first put his signature on a Paramount contract in 1914. Al Kaufman signed him and then allowed the actor a month to take a vacation cruise in a small yacht along the Atlantic coast.

But, like so many men, Guy Standing shortly was to have his life disrupted by a great war. When he returned to port, it was to discover that England had been in the struggle for two days. As soon as he heard the news the actor informed Paramount that the contract was off—that he had to return to England.

Return he did, and before it was all over he rose to the rank of commander in the British navy and later was given a title.

Better known to Broadway than he is out here, Sir Guy nevertheless won the acclaim of local playgoers for his performance with Jane Cowl in "The Road to Rome."

In his first film, he will work with such Hollywood celebrities as Fredric March, Richard Arien and Gary Cooper. The picture, featuring very few feminine characters, is aimed to be a second "Beau Geste."

One of the better retorts of the week was made by Gus McCarthy when he brought Joe Sherman a silver golf trophy two months after the tournament in which it was won.

"Well, you took your own time," said Joe.

"What are you kicking about?" flipped McCarthy. "You're not only getting a cup but an antique."

HOLLYWOOD PARADE.

Little Sidney Fox wants to stay in New York and go on the stage. Which leaves John Negulesco very disconsolate. . . . Jeanette Loff, on the other hand, tells me she will make her permanent home in Hollywood. . . . Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles' famous woman evangelist, went out to Universal the other day and asked to see the "Destination Unknown" company at work. The film stars starred as frankly at her as the picture fans do at premieres. . . . Rochelle Hudson is no longer at R-K-O. She has a new heart interest too.

The other sundown George O'Brien bet the location troupe he could hitch-hike all the way to Los Angeles. Two hours later they had to send a studio car to pick him up. He had barely reached the halfway mark. . . . Helen Twelvetrees and Frank Woody will arrive December 24 so the baby can spend his first Christmas in Hollywood. . . . Following an example which Ruth Chatterton once set, Helen Vinson is living in her dressing room at Warner Brothers. She has a three-room suite. The only disadvantage is that the tennis courts are right by her windows. Some of the net-sharks arrive as early as 6:30 A. M. to start their game.

Gary Cooper, who is going quite social these days, was a week-end guest at the Robert Hays Smith home in Burlingame. The Countess Frasso and Elsa Maxwell were along too. . . . Sitting on the bench with Coach Jimmie Phelan, Norman McLeod saw his old school team, Washington, give the University of California at Los Angeles a drubbing. Norman used to play football up north.

You should hear the sentence that Helen Hayes can make with the word Rasputin. And Bill Wright, at Frances Dee's birthday party, confessed that he sat up all night to figure this one out with "metabolism." Says Bill: "Breakfast is on me-tabolism coming down?"

It was a small thing but it completely upset tradition on the Fox lot.

From time immemorial, Janet Gaynor and Will Rogers have called it a day at 5 P. M.

But on the "State Fair" set the other afternoon, the hour struck and neither made a move. Hardly able to believe it, the company kept on working.

Finally, at six the director called it a day and went over to thank Janet and Bill.

Then it all came out. She thought Will was being a sport, and he thought she was. Were they chagrined?

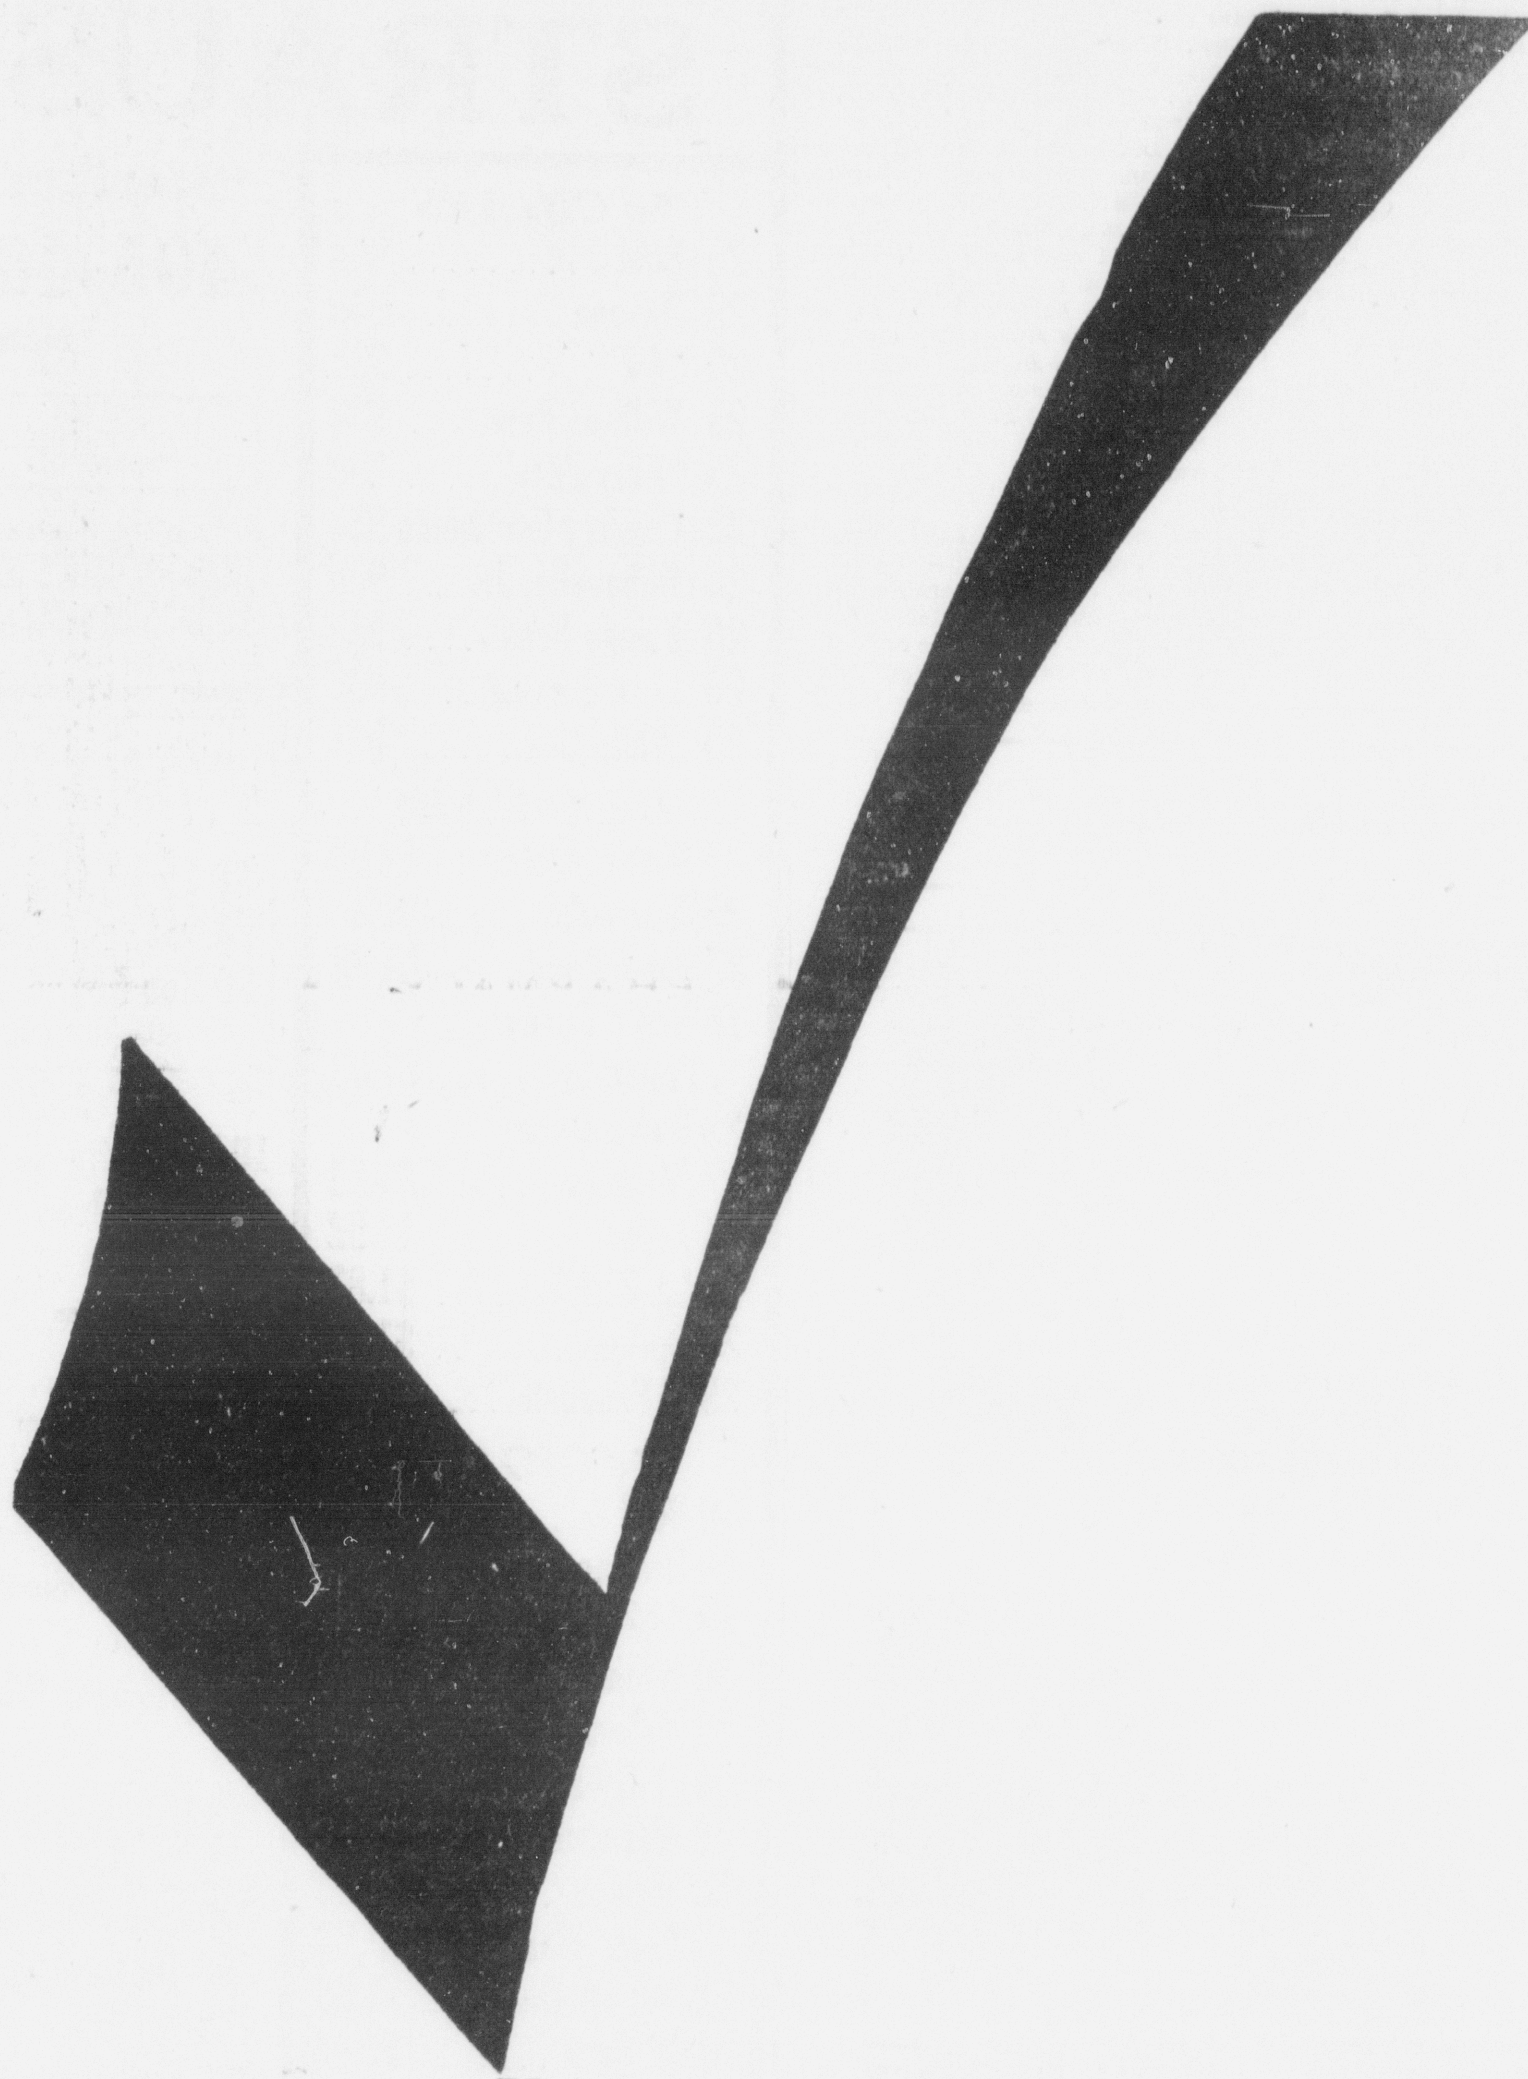

DID YOU KNOW—

That Norman Foster was a grand opera singer before entering pictures?

SPORTS

K. OF C. BASKETEERS TO MEET ODD FELLOWS

The Knights of Columbus basketball five will attempt to break into the win column when the team meets the Odd Fellows in the first game of the Bristol Basketball League tonight in the Italian Mutual Aid Hall. In the second game, the Hibernalians will go after their fourth straight win. They will play the third place Aces.

The Caseys have dropped three straight and a victory tonight will set the team to give the other clubs a close battle in the remaining games of the first half. The Odd Fellows have won a game and lost two. A victory tonight for the "Oddies" places them in a tie with the Third Ward team for fourth place.

Gene Dugan and "Jim" Sweeney will make their debut with the Knights' team tonight and will strengthen the team in two positions. It is most likely that Sweeney will jump center with "Charlie" Dugan being switched to guard. Gene Dugan will play forward.

The Bristol Aces will present two new players when the team lines up against the undefeated "Hibos." "Joie" Alta, former Bristol High School star, and "Tonto" Tentilucci are the new players. Alta will take the place of the injured Ray Pico. Tentilucci will alternate with "Socks" Seneca at one of the guard positions. Lydia will be at the pivot post with Dorsey, the colored flash, and Ad Roe at the forward positions.

"Marty" Fallon, a Hibernalian eagle-eye forward, who has been missing from the line-up because of a football injury, will be at one of the forward positions tonight in an attempt to help the Big Green with their fourth straight.

The first tap-off will be at eight o'clock sharp.

DENVER—Enough steel to erect a 15-story office building will be used in constructing the framework for huge shop buildings at the Hoover dam site in Nevada, according to Harry R. Byers, district manager for contractors holding contracts for more than ten millions of dollars worth of construction work.

REAL DUEL OF GIANTS BOOKED FOR ARENA

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 15.—A real duel of giants will take place at the Arena tomorrow night when the two biggest men in the wrestling game are slated to grapple in a special 30 minute event. Leo Pinetzi, Polish gorilla, who weighs 282 pounds and towers to a height of six feet eight inches, will trade grips with the Masked Marvel, who tips the scales at 252 pounds and is six feet four inches tall. This will be the first time that matmen of such huge proportions have faced each other and a thrilling battle should ensue.

The Marvel has come through every test offered to him in a brilliant manner and last week in one of the most spectacular frays ever witnessed at the Stockton Street amphitheatre emerged victor over the Hungarian champion, Sandor Szabo. They both tumbled from the ring and Szabo was so stunned that he was unable to return in the allotted time.

This bout will have an important bearing on furnishing an opponent for Ed "Strangler" Lewis, the heavy-weight champion. Pinetzi is slated to meet Lewis at Madison Square Garden but defeat at the hands of the Marvel will eliminate him.

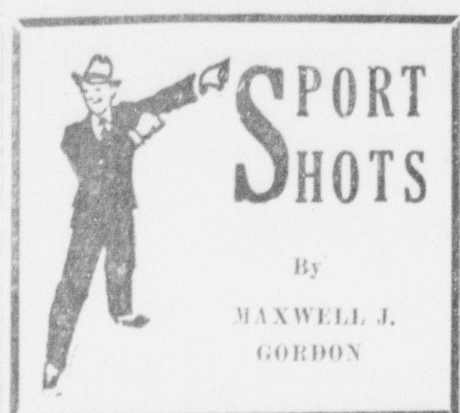

Century Milstead, Yale favorite, and Charley Hansen, Swedish tiger, grapple in the feature finish event. Milstead has registered heavily with the fans of the vicinity and his defeat last week by Pinetzi no way mars his record as he was outweighted 60 pounds. In Hansen he will be well matched in size and ability. Hansen has downed his last two foes and is out for his third straight Trenton triumph.

The other finish event brings two perennial favorites to the local mat. George "Hot-cha" Hagen and George Manich, New Jersey champ supply the fireworks. Both men are well known and well liked for their smart, clean tactics.

Joe "Bull" Komar, he of the barrel chest, makes his first appearance since his suspension for roughness in a recent bout with Orgavanyi. He is scheduled for a thirty minute fracas with the new Jewish sensation, Irving Halperin.

The opening match, starting at 8:30 will have as its principals Joe Shimkus, Lithuanian, and Gene Bruce, veteran Swedish arm-bender.

The Third Ward has a fast, young team entered in the local basketball league that should furnish lots of real competition to the other clubs in that circuit. . . . Harry Kendix, guard, is a speedy player who has an accurate eye for the basket, teamed with Jimmy Lake at center, "Chucky" Connors and Eddie Dugan in the forward positions, and "Ney" McGinley as the other guard, this quintet form a great combination. . . . The substitutes are Gasline and Crowther, with "Kiro" Bellings as mascot.

Bristol has an all-around athlete who is a star in every sport he associates himself with. . . . This young man weighs only 150 pounds and excels in track, basketball, football and baseball. . . . He is George Dougherty, of Cleveland street, a younger brother of "Dom" Dougherty, of the old Bristol A. A. team. . . . Young Dougherty played with Overbrook, a big professional football team of Philadelphia, this fall and met some of the best "pro" teams in the country. . . . Many sports writers acclaimed him as one of the speediest broken field running backs seen in the East. . . . In addition to his football playing he is one of the stars in the Bristol Basketball League being a member of the undefeated Hibernalian five.

We received our first letter from one of our friends (foeys) the other day . . . who wasn't a bit complimentary in our efforts as a columnist . . . but we have at least the satisfaction of knowing that our stuff is read. . . . We thank you.

TRACKS OF MAGIC EXPLAINED by Will L. Lindhorst

HOW YOU CAN SMOKE A PIPE WITHOUT LIGHTING IT

Two pipes, a little spirit of salts and liquid ammonia are needed for this trick. Secretly smear the inside of the bowl of one pipe with the spirit of salts and the bowl of the other with the ammonia, and appear before your audience announcing that you will produce smoke from the empty bowls of the pipes without the use of a match. Place the bowl of one pipe on top of the other, and the spirit of salts coming in contact with the ammonia will form a smoke much like that produced from tobacco.

The Trade Winds Blow

By HARDIN BURNLEY

CONNIE MACK PREDICTS THAT BOTH THE MAJOR AND MINOR LEAGUES THIS WINTER WILL SET A RECORD FOR NUMEROUS TRADES...

NOW that the 1932 football season has become history, during the next few months the Hot Stove League will be going full blast as sport fans await the coming of spring and the new baseball campaign.

The chief fuel that keeps the fires in the old Hot Stove burning brightly throughout the long winter are the trades which the baseball magnates engineer in their efforts to bolster their teams and kindle interest with new faces in the line-up.

One of the big occasions for trades and discussions of trades comes up this week when the major leagues hold their annual convention at New York. Tomorrow the National League will swing into session, followed the next day by the American League. On Wednesday both leagues will hold their joint meeting with Commissioner Landis presiding. At least that's the plan; but there's not a chance of either league being able to complete all the business in one day. There's too much to do.

All the baseball magnates, managers, scouts and so forth will be on hand for the conventions, and the fate of many a ball player hangs on the casual conversation which takes place as the baseball men sit around in the lobby before and after the actual meetings.

Connie Mack has gone on record as predicting that both the minors and the major leagues would set a record for wholesale trades this winter. He prophesies that there will be a general shake-up and switching of stars from one end of the loops to the other.

Already there are signs which augur the truth of Mack's prognostications. Connie started the ball rolling himself during World's Series week a couple of months ago when he sold Al Simmons, diamond Dykes and "Mule" Haas to the White Sox.

One of the most recent notable trades sent Floyd "Babe" Herman to the Chicago Cubs from the Cincinnati team, in exchange for four players and a sum of cash. The four Cub players who go to the Reds are Bob Smith, pitcher; Johnny Moore and Lance Richbourg, outfielders, and Rollie Hemleby, catcher.

Besides a wealth of trades and trade rumors, the major league conventions this week are expected to produce a number of drastic changes which will be drafted as economy measures. There will be severe payroll reductions, and the number of players the big league clubs are allowed to carry may be reduced from twenty-three to twenty-one.

Anyway, the current week should furnish plenty of new developments which will provide topics for discussion at all Hot Stove League conventions.
